The Outpatient Imaging Center at Stony Brook Medicine provides services in a state-of-the-art 65,000-square-foot facility located on the medical center campus. The Center provides convenience and comfort, with easy access and spacious, bright treatment areas. The location is the ideal setting for patients, families and Stony Brook’s healthcare professionals to partner in the management and treatment of a variety of medical conditions.

Directions

From the West: Take Long Island Expressway (LIE I-495) eastbound to exit 62 North, Nicolls Road (Route 97). Travel approximately 8 miles (crossing Route 347). Follow signs to the Hospital, then follow directions below, “From the Stony Brook South Entrance, East Campus.”

From the East: Take Long Island Expressway (LIE I-495) westbound to exit 62 North, Nicolls Road (Route 97). Travel approximately 8 miles (crossing Route 347). Follow signs to the Hospital, then follow directions below, “From the Stony Brook South Entrance, East Campus.”

From Technology Park: Take Belle Meade Road (south) to Route 347/Nesconset Highway (NY-347). At Route 347, turn right (west) and proceed to Nicolls Road. At Nicolls Road (Route 97) turn right (north) and travel for approximately 2 miles, following signs to the Hospital. Follow directions below, “From the Stony Brook South Entrance, East Campus.”

From the Stony Brook South Entrance, East Campus: From Nicolls Road, turn right onto Health Sciences Drive. Continue to the first light and turn left onto Edmund D. Pellegrino Road (opposite the Veterans Home entrance). For the Cancer Center and the Pain Management Center, use the first parking area. The Imaging Center and the Carol M. Baldwin Breast Care Center have a dedicated entrance and a parking area at the opposite end of the building.

Parking

Easy accessibility for patients is a high priority. Parking is plentiful and free of charge. When you arrive at the Imaging Center pull a ticket from the automated gate. When leaving the Imaging Center have your ticket validated in the building. They will give you a token that you deposit in a box that will open the gate, allowing you to exit. You may also valet park your car for free at the Cancer Center and walk to the Imaging Center.
Below are few steps that maybe part of your general diagnostic radiology experience.

Registration
When you come to our Imaging Center you will go first to the registration desk where you will be checked in. This is also where you will give your insurance information and make a co-pay if required. They will also tell you where to go next.

Imaging Reception
You will then proceed to the imaging reception window and you will be given further instruction.

Diagnostic Radiology
X-rays or radiographs are images created with X-rays, and used for the evaluation of both bone and soft tissues within the body. These images are displayed electronically and can be seen on a computer screen. Some common exams done include digital X-rays of the chest, abdomen and extremities.

Fluoroscopy is a special application of X-ray imaging where a screen is connected to a closed-circuit television system to image internal structures of the body. Contrast media, which strongly absorb X-ray radiation, in conjunction with real-time imaging ability of fluoroscopy, help to demonstrate the body at work, allowing us to evaluate such things as the time it takes for material to leave the stomach. Common fluoroscopy exams include barium enema, esophogram (X-ray) of your esophagus), small bowel series, upper gastrointestinal series and voiding cystourethrogram.

Diagnostic Radiology Reading
A Board Certified Radiologist will interpret your image and create a report for your physician. This should be ready in two business days.

Digital Library
Your study will be stored in our system, and if you require a copy, just ask at the time of the study. A disc will be printed and you can take it with you. If you require a copy later you may contact us at 631-638-2121.

Departure Process
After your appointment is finished and you have changed back into your street clothes, proceed to the check-out desk. Please give the attendant the parking pass you received upon entering the garage. They will validate the ticket, allowing you to leave the garage.